CEQUENT GROUP ACQUIRES RIGHTS TO LET'S GO AERO (LGA) CARGO MANAGEMENT PRODUCTS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS, Michigan, January 4, 2008 – TriMas Corporation (NYSE: TRS) - a diversified growth company of high-end, specialty niche businesses – today announced that its Cequent Group has acquired the rights to a number of Let's Go Aero (LGA) product lines. LGA is the sole operating subsidiary of LGA Holdings, Inc. (OTC: LGAH.OB)

"We are excited about this transaction because it will enhance Cequent's product offerings under our ROLA® and Highland® brands by providing innovative cargo management solutions to our customers, with the potential of adding several more of LGA's proprietary products to our portfolio in the future," said Paul Caruso, V.P. New Business Development, Cequent Group.

"Partnering with the world's leading manufacturer of recreational accessories will provide a powerful market entrance for LGA's patented designs and strengthen our ability to develop innovative cargo management products, as well as position our Company for long-term growth," said Marty L. Williams, LGA's President.

Under the terms of the licensing agreement, LGA will grant Cequent an exclusive worldwide license to manufacture and sell product based on the licensed LGA intellectual property. In addition, Cequent and LGA have agreed to pursue the development of new product based on LGA's core technology, in order to provide Cequent's customers with the best choices and value in cargo management solutions.
